

SAN Update

December 9, 2013

General Aviation Caucus Formed in Washington State Legislature

On November 22, 2013, the Washington state legislature formally announced the formation of a General Aviation Caucus, founded by state Senators Jim Honeyford (R-15th District) and Annette Cleveland (D-District 49), along with seven state house members. The legislature is looking to have a busy 2014 legislative session, including the April 2014 completion of the Airport Investment Study, which will assess current funding levels for long-term improvement and safety projects, among other things.

Click here to learn more about the Washington General Aviation Caucus' 2014 agenda, and here to find your legislator and urge them to join this important caucus.