

SAN Update
March 25, 2013

New Hampshire Governor Recognizes Value Of General Aviation To State

NATA, along with other national aviation organizations, praised New Hampshire Governor Margaret Hassan for declaring March 2013 “General Aviation Appreciation Month.” Across the state, general aviation contributes $639 million to the economy and supports 8,000 jobs. There are 24 publically owned airports that serve 3,825 pilots and 2,055 general aviation aircraft, the proclamation states.

NATA President and CEO Tom Hendricks commented, “Governor Hassan’s proclamation raises awareness of general aviation’s contributions to the success of local businesses, airports and communities across New Hampshire. NATA and its 21 member companies in New Hampshire applaud the Governor’s actions in recognizing general aviation as a vital resource to the state’s competitiveness and growth.”

To see if your governor has recognized the value of general aviation to your state, click here.