

GET INVOLVED ON CAPITOL HILL – JOIN NATAPAC TODAY

A political action committee, or PAC, is, as the name indicates, a political committee organized to elect candidates running for government office that are supportive of issues important to that political committee. Trade associations, corporations, unions, and other entities are known to organize PACs as a way to generate funds from their members or employees enabling them to contribute to these candidates' campaigns. NATA's PAC, known as NATAPAC, was established to contribute to candidates running for public office that are supportive of the general aviation industry and the issues it faces.

NATA has been successful in contributing to members of congress that have proven their leadership in supporting general aviation. NATAPAC contributes to congressional campaigns of Members who support aviation businesses, regardless of party affiliation! Supporting allies of general aviation must remain a constant so that we can fight for the issues most important to our industry, which is why we need your contributions to NATAPAC TODAY! No contribution is too small, however political action committee requirements prohibit more than $5,000 annually to a single PAC.

In order to contribute to NATAPAC, all members must complete a brief solicitation authorization form that then allows NATAPAC to ask for contributions. This process is quick and easy. To download and complete this form please click here and return the form via fax to (703) 845-8176 to the attention of Kristen Moore on the NATA staff.

“The National Air Transportation Association Political Action Committee plays a vital role in ensuring that the voice of aviation businesses like yours is heard on Capitol Hill. Your support of NATAPAC is essential to helping to build and maintain strong relationships with Congressional officials who make critical decisions regarding the future of our nation’s aviation industry.” – Greg Arnold, President & CEO, TAC Air
